An ad. of F. D. Fellows & Co., on the second page of this issue is of special interest to men and boys, and mothers who have boys.

The Dowse bill in regard to refunding advertising which has passed the legislature is a good thing but hardly applies to Weymouth merchants. Read the many ads. in this issue, patronize home merchants and you will get what is advertised.

Representative Drinkwater's bill prohibiting abolition of the Civil War which will be voted, whenever there is a call for a large gathering, especially town meeting and will open up the question again of building a communitons town building in or near one of the larger villages and on the line of electric cars and easy of access.

We call the attention of our readers to our offer on the fast page of this issue which is a rare opportunity to come in touch with all the events of the town every week; in addition obtain a semi-monthly magazine descriptive to every farmer,樵夫, and housekeeper and in addition to that obtain a work of art which will be an ornament to any home.

At the recent meeting of the Weymouth Historical Society held at H. B. Reed's, the society through its corresponding secretary Mrs. Ramsey, called a meeting of the members of the Plymouth Columbia in top valence. Mrs. Ramsey is so modest as to claim all the credit for the gift and says it was from the people of South Weymouth, in honor of the anniversary of the society being removed to the Fogg Library building.

It is rather a grim joke that one of our extinct contemporaries perpetrates in publishing a weekly notice to the effect that last year's board of health and overseers of the poor is now holding sessions every Monday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Pest House. Wake up, neighbor!
Haven't you heard the news that there was a town election last March and that the monument of wisdom, the Town House, is now the Small Pest House?

There are a great many laws that the people who live under them know but little about until some one attempts to enforce them—for instance: On January 1 the new law regulating white of eggs to be sold in Weymouth went into effect in this state. The new law makes it unlawful to use upon any street in this state a draft wagon with tires of iron or steel which are narrower than one and one-half the diameter of the axle, provided, the axle is two inches in diameter.
The law provides for all stage coaches, barge, and other passenger coaches, not built to run on iron or steel rails.

We learn that there has been some criticism because the selection and a commissioners went out of town to find a man to fill the position of superintendent of streets and water works, but the joint board making the selection, and the representatives of the representative men who gave most careful consideration to the entire subject, and as a result selected Mr. Lowe, and we believe that they must have had good reasons for so doing. It may be that a man without either friends or enemies would be the person to do the best work for the town in such a position, unhampered by embarrassments which often beset a local man. We believe that it is the duty of everyone, now that Mr. Lowe has been selected, to give him every encouragement and assistance citizens can give to a person in such a position, to the end that the town may get the greatest benefit from his appointment.

MINSTREL SHOW.

Superintendent of Streets and Water Works Begins His Work.

The superintendent of streets and water works lately appointed at a joint meeting of the selectmen and water commissioners, and whose picture we publish, comes from Quincy highly recommended.

Ter. M. Lowe was born in Carthage, Maine, attended the public schools of Auburn, Maine, and Quincy, Mass., and the University of Southern Boston, Culver, Boston. He first entered the employ of the Quincy Water Company on the construction of the reservoir at Brau-ton, Mass., and on completion of that work, entered the employ of the city of New Haven and worked upon the construction of the reservoir at Woodbridge.
He then returned to Quincy and went to work for Devlin & McKay, civil engineers, and subsequently for Bridges & Washington civil engineers.

He was afterwards appointed to a position in the Quincy Water Department under the Civil Service and later worked for the city of Melton as superintendent of maintenance and chief inspector of sewer and manholes.

The following numbers were given:

"The Black Dog," by company, 100.

"The Devil's Dog," by Robert L. Smith.

"The Devil's Dog," by Shakespeare.

"The Devil's Dog," by Frank H. Ball, ballad.

"The Devil's Dog," by the Cotton Blossom Gang.

"Charles Belcher's Song," "I'm Going to Lie Anchors Until I Die," William Howey song; "Blackton Lou," Lev. Hunt; "Dumb Doll," "After the Vision in Past," John Hoddy; song, "My Banham Queen," F.
N. Blanchard; "Old Banham Joe's Message," delivered by a Peckanary," Marshal Hall, etc.

The second part of the program consisted of a plantation sketch entitled "Festivities at Uncle Tom's Cabin," with the cast of Mr. Frank, Marshal Hall, Mr.
Hoddy and Ernest Stetson. This sketch concluded with plantation wit and speculation, the tiger and harpoon duets of Mrs. Meers and Stetson, revealing great aplomb and calling for repeated encores, as did also Robert Lewis' ballad roll of Hobos and tramp comedian.

The class then turned their attention to the blues, waltzes, and some of the old blues—M. B. Hall, Burton, Hoddy, Hunt and Walsh.

The next part of the program was the "Gospel" Southern walk-around, by the entire company.

The entire production was under the direction of F. N. Blanchard, and given in aid of the Porter Athletic Association.

Solos W. Pratt.

W. Pratt, a well-known business man of this town, passed away suddenly at his home on Front street, on Sunday, April 2.

Mr. Pratt was born in Eben, Vt., April 21, and was the son of John Thiston and Mrs. South Pratt. He came to Weymouth about 1870, and with his brother Lewis in 1871 learned the trade of plate and sheet iron worker. A few years later they came to Weymouth, where they started in business and landed in the family of Elias Ulrich. Having been a member of the Union church in Weymouth, he sang for a number of years. He also belonged

WEYMOUTH GAZETTE.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY THE GAZETTE PUBLISHING COMPANY,
(D. C. COOPERATION.)

WEYMOUTH, - MASS.

Mr. E. H. HAWES,
Manager and Editor.

OFFICES AT THE POST OFFICE AT WEAVER'S HARD, AS BROAD-CLAW SAUER.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1902.

The King of Siam has decided not to visit the United States this summer. This will be quite a loss, but then it will give us more time to watch base ball.

At an auction sale last week the herring factory of Plymouth brought $39 for the year 1902. Weymouth gets much more than that for her herring, but it is not advisable to ask where the money comes from.

There are fourteen congressman to be elected in this state next November and while the nominating conventions will not be held until September there are seventy-five names mentioned for the positions.

He is no more. He has disappeared. His last audience on earth, his presence has passed away and the voice that moved multitudes is buried forever. There may have been those who differed with him; there always is in leading men, but there stands the fact that one of the brightest lights has gone out and every man, woman, and child has suffered a shock.

During the Civil War an uncivil war was carried on at Washington between the generals of the field and so-called heads of the department. Today we are confronted with a repetition of the same state of affairs and the natural inquiry is, who are the generals, and what rights which so-called higher authorities are bound to respect. In other words where does Gen. Miles belong and as the highest ranking military officer in the United States has any standing?

By proclamation of His Excellency, the Governor, and by mutual consent Saturday the 26th, instant will be "Arbor Day" which means a day for the planting of trees, shrubs and a general cleanup of our scenery. We are now in the southeast again, and there is no room where Weymouth should not keep pace with the times.

We have beautiful homes with fine lawns and surroundings, but too little attention has been paid to general or public improvements along these lines. Many of our streets and squares are entirely void of anything in the way of the beautiful and ornamental. The schoolhouses are open to the most severe criticism and these should be a general wake-up on this line. Let us wake up and every man do something on the 26th to help out.

William H. Hecking.

William H. Hecking of South Weymouth passed away very suddenly at his home on Park avenue on last Sunday night. Death was due to heart disease. Mr. Hecking was 81 years of age and for the past 38 years had carried on a butcher's business, covering a large route in the town and adjoining towns.

He had been connected with the department for many years, serving through the several great fields of his appointment as district chief and was also a member of Weller's Lodge No. 51, I. O. O. F. Both organizations were represented by large delegations.

Funeral services were held from his late residence on Weymouth afternoon, conducted by Rev. Frank E. Butler. The tremele ill escort duty and the 11th Fife and Drum corps were present at the service. Weymouth was laid to rest in the grave. The four remaining tremeles and two representatives from the Old Fellows acted as bearers and the interment was at Mt. Hope cemetery.

The funeral tributes were very beautiful especially those from Hose 4 and 6, Hook & Ladder 5, engineers and bell Association.

Mr. Hecking leaves a widow, one son, Wendell, and a daughter, Mrs. Jennie F. Hunt of Quincy.

Edward Everett Poole.

Edward Everett Poole died in Boston Friday, April 11th, 1902. Mr. Poole was born in Weymouth and was the only child of Joseph Warren and Rachel (Blanchard) Poole. When a youth he went to live with his uncle Albert T. Treadell, Esq., of South Weymouth who brought him up and educated him, as his father died young. He was a graduate of the High school and afterwards completed his education at Phillips Andover Academy, Mass.

He married, Jan. 11, 1892, Jennie L. Fog, daughter of John S. and Lydia (Baker) Fog, who were born in Weymouth about 1840, and died in Boston, April 13, 1898.

After Mr. Poole's graduation at Andover he became clerk for the firm of J. & A. Treadell of Boston, and was for many years one of the firm. After the firm of J. & A. Treadell was dissolved in 1892, he became identified with the firm of Foy Bros., bankers, of Boston, where he remained several years. He left no family.

Funeral services were held Monday at the First Congregational Church, Boston.

Second Annual Success.

The annual musical show given by the Norfolk Club of South Weymouth was held in Foggs' Opera house on last Friday evening, and proved to be the most successful program ever offered by the club. The hall was not as well filled as the committee would have desired, but the audience gave it an appropriate ovation.

Too much praise cannot be given to C. Urus Treadell, musical director; Frank Wood, the interlocutor and to the members of the committee who nothing Yankee Century Woman Held a Town Meeting.

According to an old timer, the town meeting held by the Ladies' Social Circle of the Congregational Church, East Weymouth, last Thursday night, was a "huster." Whatever the significance of that word may be, the meeting showed that evening of enjoyment rarely exceeded.

The warrant for the meeting bore the name of Elizabeth C. Hawes, Lillian Estelle Tolman, Sophie L. Raymond, Sarah Pratt and Susan Sprague as selectwomen and was sworn to have been properly witnessed by Alberta Haywood, notary.

The meeting was called to order by Justice H. Raymond, town clerk, the warrant of fourteen articles was read, and the assembly proceeded to ballot for moderator which resulted in the unanimous choice of Ella Spiney to fill that position.

Too much praise cannot be given to C.

I am a "backward" spring, and our spelling recognizes the fact. But the spring is coming. Any discrete layers are already picking out the pretty springish things which we have provided in anticipation of the sure-coming of the season, when these dainty bits will be needed to heighten the effect of daintiness of spring dresses and millinery. Don't be "backward" in coming forward and securing the pretty things which specially meets your taste.
